STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

Student Retention

Pfeiffer takes retention rates very seriously because student retention is the backbone of student achievement. If students do not retain, then they cannot achieve. Student retention reflects how well the University is accomplishing its mission.

The University tracks retention by various subgroups. In each category below, the goal will be given by subgroup. The graphs which follow show historical performance on these metrics.

Pfeiffer University Achievement Goals and Minimum Thresholds for Retention
Criteria Measured	Goal	Minimum Threshold
Overall First Time In College Freshmen Student Retention	75% Fall-to-Fall	60% Fall-to Fall

Graduation Rates

Graduation is the goal for assessing student achievement. Although retention reflects the University's progress toward its goal, graduation is a reflection of the success of the institution mission. Therefore, Pfeiffer values graduation rate as a metric of student achievement.

The University tracks graduation rates by various subgroups. In each category below, the goal will be given by subgroup. The graphs which follow show historical performance on these metrics.

Pfeiffer University Achievement Goals and Minimum Thresholds for Graduation
Criteria Measured	Goal	Minimum Threshold
Freshmen (FTIC) Graduation Rates	60% within 6 years	40% within 6 years
PELL Recipient Graduation Rate	60% overall graduation rate	40% overall graduation rate

Program Accreditations

The University considers certain programs with external accreditations to be key indicators of student success. Below are metrics for three programs that students sometimes request.

In the table below, the goal for each program is given. These thresholds for passing licensure exams are developed by the accreditor and thus adopted by the University. The graphs which follow show historical performance on these metrics.

Pfeiffer University Achievement Goals and Minimum Thresholds for Select Program Accreditations
Criteria Measured	Goal	Minimum Threshold
National Council Licensure Examination RN Exam (NCLEX)	100% of first time exam takers	82% of first time exam takers, which has been 95% of the national average for the past three years
Teacher Education Licensure Exam (PRAXIS II)	100% of first time exam takers	100% of first time exam takers

A Look Back

Pfeiffer University originated from the Oberlin Home and School, a homeschool developed by Miss Emily C. Prudden in 1885. In 1903, the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church assumed responsibility for the Oberlin property, and the Oberlin school was renamed the Ebenezer Mitchell Home and School. The Mitchell Home and School then moved to the current property in Misenheimer, issuing the first high school diplomas in 1913.

A junior college curriculum was added in 1928, and the school was renamed Mitchell Junior College. The introduction of elementary studies by county schools permitted the school to eliminate lower grades and to direct its efforts toward collegiate level work.

In honor of Henry and Annie Merner Pfeiffer of New York City, the name Pfeiffer Junior College was first used for the 1935–1936 academic year. Pfeiffer broadened its program to include senior college work in 1960. Thirty-six years later in May of 1996, the Board of Trustees voted to reorganize Pfeiffer's academic structure toward university status.

The Charlotte campus opened in 1977 with undergraduate classes in Criminal Justice, and the first graduate program followed in 1985. Additionally, the Raleigh-Durham campus opened in 2004, offering a variety of graduate programs.

Since its founding, Pfeiffer has consistently grown in academic excellence, developing new programs to meet student needs and emphasizing the ideals of Christian service.

Mission

Pfeiffer University delivers a transformational, personalized education wherein students are shaped by a gifted, diverse, and committed community of mentors. Graduates are prepared to lead, have the disposition to serve, and possess the wisdom and skills to facilitate health and prosperity throughout the region and the world.

Accreditation

Pfeiffer University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) to award baccalaureate and master's degrees. Questions about the accreditation of Pfeiffer University may be directed in writing to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, GA 30033-4097, by calling (404) 679-4500, or by using information available on SACSCOC's website (www.sacscoc.org). The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACSCOC) is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.
